

Things that should not have to be said but...

Keep your eyes on your own test. While thinking, look at your test, the screen, or the ceiling.

Put away smart phones, translators, and other electronic devices.

No earbuds, head phones, google glasses, apple watches, etc.

Remove and put away your hats, or turn them backwards.

Failure to observe these rules or any others that I give verbally will result in me taking your test and you receiving a zero.

Relax! The weekend is almost here.
